THE RIGHTS OF NATURE

GARN
LEGAL HUB

Call for Recruiting Interns for the Legal Hub on the Rights of Nature

The Global Alliance for the Rights of Nature (GARN) is looking for passionate law students at New York University to support the Legal Hub and promote the Rights of Nature movement for 4 to 9 months, starting from the Fall semester. GARN is a global network of organizations and individuals committed to the universal adoption and implementation of legal systems that recognize, respect, and enforce the “Rights of Nature”. Rather than treating nature as property under the law, the time has come to recognize that natural communities have the right to exist, maintain and regenerate their viral circles.

Our goals of the Legal Hub are to promote timely and effective analysis of current legal issues concerning the care of our common home, to continue to develop the philosophical and practical basis for alternative legal paradigms worldwide, and to serve as a resource for global partners who wish to educate on and advocate for greater legal consideration of the entire Earth Community. Finally, we want to create a repository of legal experts around the world available to assist in developing legal issues concerning the rights of Nature with an interactive online platform called the Eco Jurisprudence Monitor that compiles ecological jurisprudence initiatives globally as well as related resources for researchers, lawyers, policymakers, and activists.

Together with the International Rights of Nature Tribunal, which was created by GARN in 2014 to provide a vehicle for reframing and adjudicating prominent environmental and social justice cases within the context of a Rights of Nature-based Earth Jurisprudence, GARN has strived to enable Indigenous Peoples to share their unique concerns and solutions about land, water, and culture with the global community.
